

CLASH 231 chair

design Samuli Naamanka

Clash chair is an outstanding all-purpose chair with an ingenious frame integrated row connection. The connection comes as an accessory and it is unnoticeable and user friendly. The chair piles up straight.

The Clash range was named after its production method. There are no visible attachments in the seat and legs of the chair, as these are joined to each other by clashing the parts together - hence the name Clash. The solution for linking the chairs in rows is genius in simplicity, creating a feeling of grace and dignified subtlety.
